Who is ready to go racing? After a 3 week break the Bailey Motorsports team is! Check us out at this weekend at the 2nd round of the CSRA Snowcross series to be held at The Yard in Sault Ste Marie. The team has taken advantage of the long break, practicing and testing at The Compound in Muskoka, working on set ups on the Skidoo RS, Fox suspension and tuning in the MBRP race exhaust.

Our riders are ready and set to battle for podium positions all weekend long. Ryan Hunt proved he has the speed to lead the Pro Lite class in Rouyn Noranda, as did Isaac St Onge. Pro riders Eggen and King have something to prove in the Soo and are confident they can.

New to the team are Snowbike riders Mark Freeman and Nathan Bles. These two riders will represent the team for the remainder of the season aboard the Bailey Motorsports, Flybyu Yeti Snowbikes in the newly formed class. These two riders will bring a new level of excitement to not only the snowbike class but to the CSRA series and our sport.
